MONROE DOCTRINE.

"It is now claimed by England and the United States that the doctrine excludes all nations not American from acquiring territory upon either of the continents. Which construction is far reaching in its effect and is intended to meet conditions that are slowly taking form in the Orient."

The above quotation are the last sentences in an article that appeared in Sunday morning's JOURNAL. The Monroe doctrine has become a force that may not be disposed of in a sentence.

England in late years built near Victoria in British Columbia a fort which was, according to popular belief, the strongest offensive and defensive structure in the world. A few people on the Pacific Coast were of the opinion when it was completed that it was intended as a menace to the United States, but subsequent events have shown to the satisfaction of every one, that such was not the purpose. The real object in view when the fort was made was to meet and offset Russia, who was then engaged in extending a railroad line into Siberia, the northern terminal of which is at Vladivostok on the Pacific Ocean. England has been more or less engaged for fifty years providing means for defense upon the frontier of India, to meet the encroachments of Russia, who continued to appropriate territory by force or otherwise adjacent to that frontier, and when that power in Northern Asia was approaching by means of a railway the western frontier of England's possessions in North America, she made a strong fortification on that frontier, to meet any conditions in war that might arise on the Pacific.

When Russia had completed the railway to the north, the extension of the line over its territory to the south received the attention of the Russian government. But in order to extend the line on the south to the Pacific it became necessary to appropriate additional territory in the Orient, which that power is at this time engaged in doing after the manner of her well established methods.

When Russia made an appearance in the Orient demanding a right of way to the ocean, and Germany, France and Italy at the same time appearing in that part of the globe demanding concessions, a new danger, threatening in its nature, was presented for consideration, not by England only, but by the United States. The danger being of a like nature to the frontiers of both countries an understanding was had respecting a means for defense and a new fort for defensive purposes was supplied by the application of the Monroe doctrine, which structure for defense extends on the west American coast from Cape Horn on the south to Bering sea and beyond on the north. The construction given by the powers interested is, that it will be deemed by each an unfriendly act, equivalent to a declaration of war, for any non-American nation to acquire any territory on the American continent, which construction will exclude any foreign power from procuring a coaling station, and so long as coal is the means used to provide ocean warships with power, all the navies of the world could not make successful war upon American territory. In the arrangement about the application of the Monroe doctrine there is included an explanation of the late friendly relations between the United States and England, the interests of both countries being mutual respecting the defense of their western frontiers against the world, the larger part of which is now represented at the Orient seeking whom it may devour. The conditions that demanded some definite construction of the Monroe doctrine were not represented on the world's chess board till the partition of China had taken form by European representation at the Orient. And when active form was given to the project of partition by the naval powers of Europe it became a menace to the Pacific American coast that demanded immediate attention and co-operation by the powers most interested, which demand has been supplied and the most powerful nations naval and numerical are at the guns.

RUSH THE WAR.

More men are required in the Philippines, and it seems the administration and those in charge of military affairs on the islands have come to the conclusion that a few thousand soldiers are insufficient to quiet the islanders. It is to be regretted that so much time has been in a measure wasted by a failure of some one to take in the real situation. The incompetency of some one who should have had the real condition of things in hand long ago is evident the longer the war continues. Because too few men are at the front, to do the necessary work, the larger will be the loss of life, and the expenditure of money. President McKinley is doing a work that will defeat him at the next election unless there is a change for the better in the conduct of the war, and the country cannot afford the defeat of McKinley at the expense of life and treasure.

HOGS.

Four carloads arrived and were disposed of early and packers say they are supplied for the week. While no price was made on the lot sold it is fair to presume that as the top at the river was $3.67½, the price paid here will be $3.65. The Colorado Packing Company took the lot.

SHEEP.

Several inquiries for stockers, but no contracts closed. It indicates that the sheepmen are about in as bad shape as the cattlemen for good range, but of course, are not ready to lay down yet. The mutton demand will be in good shape again about Monday.

Suggestion Not Good.

The scheme proposed by the White Pine News for raising funds with which to build a residence for the President of the University would be a capital one for keeping poor Nevada boys and girls away from our highest educational institution. The statement that an additional registration fee of $20 for each student would not be burdensome is erroneous. Laboratory, guarantee and breakage fees which must be paid at the time of registration, already make the prospective student consult his pocket book carefully, and an additional charge of $20 would be equivalent to his paying tuition. The idea of providing free scholarships for the needy students is philanthropic, but not to be desired. The present system of giving work to young men and women who are unable to pay boarding expenses cannot be improved upon. The Nevada State University is already famous throughout the west as a splendid school for Nevada boys who are unable to meet the expense which is put upon them by the greater Universities. It is this that makes Nevada able to boast of more college graduates to its population than any State in the Union.

Insane Man Escapes.

Last Sunday an inmate of the insane asylum, commonly known as old "Be God Jack," concluded that he had resided long enough in the beautiful bug house beside the limpid Truckee, so while out on Sunday leave he took the northern wagon road, and was last heard from at Lemmon's ranch, Alkali Lake, where he said he was going to Loyalton.

Old "Be God Jack" is a character well known about Reno. He has long been considered harmless and has been given the liberty of the town on Sundays. His hallucination was that he had been working for the Asylum authorities for twenty years, and he claims they owe him $18,000. He said while at the Lemmon ranch, "Be jabers, I will wurrk no more until they pays me the twenty yars wages they owes me."

An employee at the Asylum was yesterday detailed to bring back the poor creature.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every State in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Washoe Vs Eureka.

Attorney F. Norcross has returned from Carson, whither he was called Saturday on the case of Washoe county vs. Eureka county. The suit is brought to recover $2,112, alleged expense for keeping one of Eureka's indigent poor, Judge Wren, who is acting for Eureka, filed a demurrer last Saturday.

BORN.

SULLIVAN—In Reno, June 16, 1899, to the wife of Thomas Sullivan, a son.

Two more love lorn swains from the Golden State were married yesterday morning at the Riverside Hotel by Judge Linn. Their names are Benjamin Adler and Fredrika Dunbar, both of San Francisco. George Cheek and Captain W. L. Cox acted as maids-of-honor and bridesman, respectively. Bless you my children. Now that you are securely hitched together (thanks to the liberal laws of Nevada) we hope that you may trot serenely over the bunch grass plains of life and never get lost upon the alkali deserts of sorrow.

His Handy Valise.

An old friend of the late ex-Governor Oglesby tells a reminiscence of a valise. He was traveling through the state and met the governor on the train. When they were seated, the governor drew out a valise that had a peculiar and handy way of being opened from the top. It was made of strong leather and had tags pasted all over it. "I carried this valise through the Holy Land," said the governor. "I think a great deal of it."

"I suppose it brings up some pleasant memories," suggested the other traveler. "More than that," was the reply, and the keen eyes of the governor twinkled as he reached down and touched a button and the valise opened immediately, but cautiously, at the top. It opened wide enough to admit a hand and to permit it to withdraw with a black bottle in its clutch.

"This is a great valise. I can get a bottle out of it, and nobody ever sees me."

When the residence of ex-Governor Oglesby burned, all of his private papers of every sort and all of his war trophies were destroyed. A short time after he met this same peripatetic friend. "It was a great loss you sustained, governor," he said. "Yes, all my papers are gone. Sorry to lose them, too, and then my awards are gone too. I was sorry to lose them, and I know you'll be grieved to hear it—that valise was burned up. Yes, it's gone. Bob Ingersoll gave me that valise, and I did hate to lose it, it was so handy."—Chicago Tribune.

One of the many camera fiends of this city has recently been showing his friends a very unusual photograph of himself, caught in the act of falling from a ladder, and seeming to be a winning candidate for a broken neck. In spite of the fact that the injury seems so certain the tumbler's face wears a cheery smile, and on close inspection may be seen to be winking his eye mischievously at you as well as the force of gravity. In reply to questions he explained that that was an accomplishment acquired only after long practice. "I could pose for that picture all day long with no serious injury to myself, except waste of time and a little physical fatigue," he insisted. But the less credulous of his friends refused to believe that he took pleasure in such acrobatic performances, and finally he had to tell the whole story.

"It's all very simple. First you place your camera in some way about 10 or 12 feet from the floor, with the lens pointing downward. A picture taken with it in this position will make the floor appear to be a side wall. Lay a sheet of white cloth on the floor and then arrange your ladder and yourself upon this sheet, and the posing is done. A strip of carpet tacked to the wall and a couple of chairs deftly arranged adds to the illusion, but the whole thing is so simple that I am ashamed of myself for explaining it to you instead of making you think it out for yourself."

Would Be Cheaper.

"I have a proposition to make to you," said the regular patron as he took the restaurant proprietor off to one side. "Well," said the restaurant man. "I have been coming here for some time, and I have discovered that a tip is necessary if one is to get good service."

"That's the case nearly everywhere."

"Well, what I want to suggest is that I'll pay the salary of my waiter if you will put up the tips. You really ought to be willing to take the more expensive end of the bargain, don't you think?"—Chicago Post

Very Plain Reasons Why

We Sell Cheapest

Claims of supremacy are ineffectual unless they are backed by solid arguments that establish absolute facts. Exaggeration flows easily and smoothly from many retail sources. We could advertise wildly and frantically, but crediting the public with intelligence and powers of discrimination, we prefer to print our modest statement, and calmly sustain them with the most logical of reasons, for in 'nuce:

No retailer in the world buys goods more advantageously than the Novelty Dry Goods Store Co. Frequently we may not secure staple articles for less money than others pay, but we in variably sell cheaper

BECAUSE WE ARE SATISFIED WITH SMALLER PROFITS

The actual amount paid for goods is only a part of their cash. Every man and woman understands that each department must contribute its pro rata percentage for general store expenses—including losses that the credit system involves.

Four Reasons Why Our Prices are Lowest:

WE DO NOT SELL ON CREDIT
WE DO NOT GIVE DISCOUNTS
WE ARE VERY CLOSE BUYERS
WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT

Other stores tax cash customers for losses sustained by delinquent credit customers. Other stores levy tribute from YOU to compensate for discounts and commissions granted a favored few. WE DO NOT. You only my customers get the discount. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. Do you grasp the full meaning of these words and comprehend their connection with your purse? The NOVELTY is not an Extravagant Store. The merchandise, thoughts and features are always foremost. Brilliant and tasteful decorations are costly. Theatrical glare may please the fancy, but it increases the price of goods. Our practical and conservative methods of store management are not intended to appeal to your sense of display. They are meant to accord with your ideas of economy. Many houses indulge in spectacular display AT YOUR EXPENSE. The Novelty Dry Goods Store may be comparatively plain, but values are wholesome and distinctive.

An Aggregation of Tramps in the County Jail.

THEY NUMBER TWENTY-FOUR.

Needless Expense to the County
---Majority of Them Young Men---Their Stories.

A plague of tramps is upon the town of Reno. The good wives now beg their husbands to keep sturdy servants about the houses, for they are fearful of being accosted by some members of the track walking fraternity if left unprotected. The woodpiles still sleep undisturbed by saw or axe, for they are abhorred by the hobo, but the cup of charity coffee and ample bunk of good hearted pie disappear down the cavernous throat of the mendicant, who, according to his own story, is always sick, string halt or unfortunate. Learning that our county jail was filled by an heterogeneous conglomeration of the country's riff raff population, a JOURNAL reporter expressed a desire to enter and converse with them. The request was kindly granted by Deputy Sheriff Hayes, who accompanied the scribe into the jail.

The first thing noticed by the reporter when the massive iron door swung back was a group of eight or nine men lounging about the lower corridor. They had just finished their morning meal, which, judging from the numerous remnants scattered about, had been ample to say the least.

Indulging a spirit of humor the scribe remarked to the group, "What is this, a little Sunday school picnic?" A sardonic grin ran around the group and one answered, "Well hardly, pard. Dis is a banquet of which we partake wid wonderful hunger. It aint much, but we would weep tears of blood if it didn't show up at least tree times a day."

A walk through the corridor which surrounds the cells brought to view another large group in the other end, who were likewise engaged in disposing of the food so generously provided by Washoe county. They were mostly young men, but few gray heads being discernable.

"How does it happen that you are all up for vagrancy?" was the first question put.

"Well, boss," answered one, "you see the most of us has come up from California to git jobs here through hayin'. We was a little early, and all of us didn't git jobs right at once. So we loaf around town waitin' our chance. Just as soon as any feller gets drunk de cops runs him in, coo dey has to do it to keep up their pay. That's how it is."

Five times in as many minutes the reporter was gently requested to depart with two bits just to help out as many "unfortunate" tramps. Ye God! How strongly is the habit of begging fastened upon the United States hobo.

Twenty-four big strong muscular men are in the county jail; all but two or three are serving sentences of from fifteen to fifty days for vagrancy. Washoe county is feeding them and furnishing them beds to sleep in. Five are Indians, being confined for creating disturbances upon the streets while drunk. These Indians are always very docile and penitent when sober. They work upon the Court House lawn, out wood and no other chores, making no attempts to escape. But alas, after they are released, and exposed to the tender mercy of some law-defying liquor dealer, they can't be restrained from swilling enough bad whiskey to transform them into howling, hideous idiots. The Washoe Indian has little enough sense ordinarily, and when drunk he has none at all.

"Why did you leave California and come over here for work, when they are advertising for thousands of laborers in that State?" asked the reporter of several of the white men. The answer was almost invariably, "Because they ain't nothing in working hard for $1 a day when the thermometer stands 115 degrees in the shade."

And thus it always is with the mendicant—he always has an excuse, and as a rule the one most facile with his excuse is the least inclined to work. All of these men say they will work, and some no doubt would, if given an opportunity, but the majority does not care to labor. At any rate, the support of so many vagrants is a needless burden to Washoe county, whose citizens are already paying all the tax they can stand. Let these tramps be put to work grading the public roads and improving the streets of Reno.

President Hadley of Yale in an address last Friday evening before the Hill House high school of New Haven, made a severe attack upon trusts and combines. He also defended higher education, saying:

"If we are to handle millions we need more arithmetic than when we handle only hundreds. We need more languages if we are to deal with foreign nations. We shall need to read more if we are to understand the conditions, the attitude and manner of thinking of alien races. This is essential to a fair and correct judgment of foreign affairs. Their habits of thought must be known to us if we are to handle and deal with those races."

Ye Reporter Asks.

In his recent tour out over the prospective route of the N-C-O railway extension, the reporter rode one of the well known Rambler bicycles. All kinds and conditions of roads were met with, from the rocky Cold Spring canyon in Modoc county to the sandy waste of lower Honey Lake Valley, but the Rambler took all alike, and if the tires had not met with several punctures from insidious grease wood thorns the rider would never have been obliged to open his tool box in all the 350 mile journey. No doubt there are other wheels just as good as the Rambler but we greatly doubt if a better one can be purchased for $40. Fred Morrill has them for sale and rent at his cycloery on Second Street, and they give unvaried, universal satisfaction. It is stated on good authority that there are more Ramblers being used in Reno than all other makes of bicycles combined.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief in a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

A Surprise Party

In honor of his twenty-first birthday, W. J. Luke, Jr., was tendered a pleasant surprise last evening by a number of friends. They came with their arms full of good things to eat, and of course all ate, sang, danced and had a royal good time. The surprise party was made up of the Misses Kirby, the Misses Boyd, Miss Laura Smith, J. H. Hamlin, Carl Stoddard, Bert Frazer and John Ohlman.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs, she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well, now looses her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

The first annual reunion of the Rough Riders is now being held at Las Vegas, New Mexico. Thousands of people have gathered at the frontier town.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store.
